oren the safe in Davis & Walker's store, at Eleventh street and Maryland avenue southwest, at an early hour last Saturday morning. Assistant District Atterney Lavender this morning directed a warrant to issue for Hill, charging him with housebreaking in the alght, at the barber shop adjoining Davis & Walker's grocery store.

The officers expect, however, to connect him with the safe burglary case. The officers expect, however, to connect him with the safe burglary case. The only evidence so far against Hill, who is twenty-seven years old and a married man, is the statement of a man named Hall, who lives in the rear of the grocery store. He states that late on Friday night while entering his house in the alley he saw a man resembling Hill standing at a back building in the rear of the grocery store. There was an entrance forced through the window, and some one inside could be heard moving about.

The entrance did not lead to the grocery store, although a stranger would think so. The entrance to the grocery store was effected from the front later in the night. Mr. Hall states that when he went into his house and secured his pistol the man disappeared. Raff states that Hill minde contradictory statements as to his where abouts on the night in naestlon.

—There will be an entertainment at Hyland M. E. Chapel for the benefit of the choir to-morrow evening. Professor Gilbert It, Walden will give several recitations, and the choir will render choice music.

Agent Key of the Humane Society had four cases of cruelty to animals before the Police Court this morning. Charles C. Sailor, of the Washington and Georgetown Satior, of the Washington and Georgetown Raliroad, was charged with working a horse to a car when the notinnal was soffering with a diseased hoof and walked inne. The testimony of the stableman was to the effect that the animal kicked itself on the hoof. This case was dismissed.

Philip May was charged with working a lame horse and forfeited collateral.

Richard J. Evans forfeited Stor a similar offense.

Edward T. Vellan was also charged with Celebrating St. Patrick's Day.

The Irish societies have decided to have a street parade on the 17th of March in honor of their patron saint. A meeting was called at Cosmopolitan Hall last night to perfect arrangements for the occasion, and Mr. T. A. Duffy was chosen which marshal, John Sullivan first assistant, and S. F. McGrath second assistant. The fellowing organizations were represented to the comment of the Registry of Columbially, Knights of St. Bernard, and Georgetown Hiberman Society.

A Pensioner Robbed.

R. D. Dumphy, who is said to be the only armless pensioner on the rolls, was robbed last Sinday by a mean thief. The old man draw his pension some days ago and carried it about his person in gold cole. He has been stopping at the Navai Hospital in East Washington, and was left without means after being robbed. An attache of the hospital is suspected of the robbery. A corporal has since deserted the hospital.

Caught a Red Fex.

Mesers, Joseph Fields, William Marcey
and Landred libreh, three young gentlemen of Falls Church, while out hunting one morning last week near there, found a large red fox, which they actually sueceded in running Josup in the open and capturing alive. This is rather remarkable and the hunters must have been well mounted.

calls and genuine applause count for any thing, Mr. Wilson Barrett may consider his

If enthusiastic apprecial for, repeated recalls and genuine appliance count for any thing, Mr. Wilson Harrett may consider his first sipicarance in Washington an eminent and conforting success. The play was "Clausitati," which, as well as the actor and his company, is new, and its unerits are reservely seroud to those of the actor. It is of the By antine school, so to speak, and alsounds in splendid scenery, strong lights stud shadows, powerful effects and antihictical emotions. Mr. Barrett's Claudins is not clothed with that distinctive genius which makes a character immortal, but there is in his work the strokes which leave the imprint of greatness. Miss Eastlake loot her identify in the character of Abuido, and made her devotion to Unitalism a poem as sweet as it was sorrowful. The support was good in the main. A few whiskered puns in the little escene between Below and the soldlers and his prospective father-inleave are searcely of the Byzantine epoch, ante-dating that period probably 1,290 years. The mechanical effects were excelleat, the thunder and lightning and earthquake being quite like the natural thing.
Mr. Harrett made a speech on his fourth recall at the end of the prologue, in which he excused his hoarseness, and said a "nice clever fellow," one of our fellow-townsmen, was doing all he could to bring him arouned. There was a big house and a sympathetic one. Again to-night.

"Erminder Erminles" You ask what it is it's a musical melange, as whimsical whize, a collection of songs, of jokes and of chaff, whose object in life is to make the world laugh. There's dareing and marching with howing and whiles, and a size full of graceful, goodlooking girls, whose dresses are built in the unual way, above and below quite devolete. There's a plot that is anny, with a hitle horse play, some seculieffects in soft plok and gray; there is at this is traiter, there is beauty, there's chain, and nowhere at all can you find any lastin, it cecutes, as we've said, the play is full fool to neight.

THE DIME—"COLLARS AND CUFFS."
There was bardly room in the Dime Museum last hight for the persons anxious to laugh at the absurdity, "Collars and Cuffs."
With Charles (Biday in the cast, the play was given with vim and dash, and, while it would hardly bear criticism, makes everyone laugh, and laugh loud and loug. "Laugh, and the world laugh sent lough of the play and that's what "Collars and Cuffs" is here for. Again to night.

Dominick Murray, the well-known actor, drew a large crowd to the Bliou Iss night. "Escaped From Sing Sing" has many interesting elunations and they were all taken advantage of. The excitement never relaxes, and the play to the end rivate the attention and absorbs the interest. The singe setting is good, and the good and ence of last night will probably be repeated throughout the week. Two performances daily. Box-office open from 3 a. m. to 11 p. m. KEINAN'S.—GUS BILL'S NOVELTIES.

eennan's.—gus hill's novelties. Kernan's was packed last night to wel-come Gus Hill's "World of Novelties," and come Gus Hill's "World of Novelties," and the audience was well paid for trampling through the rain. Gus Hill himself needs no introduction, nor does the pretty little engstress, Miss Dollie Foster. The Vidocys, John and Edna, had a laughable sketch which put the audience in a good humor with itself and they gave a warm reception to Weber and Fields, "Two Skull Cracker," The wire rope walking and the trapeze act were good, but the hit of the evening was made by Nat Haines and Will Viducej. The performance closed with the better-than-aud afterprece, "Two Old Sports." Again to-night.

Theatrical Gossip.

By the burning of the Masonic Theatre, Augusta, Ga, Saturday afternoon, Mrs. D. P. Howers and her company lost their entire wordrobe valued at $25,000. The hours receipts for that evening, amounting to $800, were refunded, which increased the loss. Her manager will cancel all dates and return to New York. Mrs. Howers' many riends her sympathize with her in this stroke of ill fortune.

The Japanese Village was visited yester-ay by the pupils of the Abbott, Seaton and velster buildings to the number of 1,490, oday the Force and Demoison will visit in body to the number of 1,050.

a body to the number of 1,000.

Every lady visiting the Artec Pair this work is presented with a beautiful sourcein in the sheps of a piece of Guadaiajara pottery. These unique little progents are eagerly sought, for by the ladies, and make most beautiful ornaments.

Considerable discussion prevails among theatre-goers as to the proper pronunctation of the name of Mila Ricci, who portrays Erminer this week at Albaugh's. For the information of the rader Miss Ricci says that her name is an Italian one, and that the "c" has the soft "ch," hence the pronunciation is the same as if spelled Rissby.

Head Gear!

Unlimited facilities enable us to produce at the shortest possible notice any number of Caps or Hats of a given style. We shall be glad at any time to furnish estimates to military organiza-tions, colleges, bleyele clubs, uniformed societies, etc. Our prices will be found to be somewhat lower than those of any Excussive hat and can house in America; the quality, of course, we guarantee always. Railroad conductors, employes of the Rallway Matl Ser-March come without trying the "S. C." Corset. During a particular shape, would do well to consult with us before placing their orders elsewhere. Knights Templar Knights of Pythias, Uniformed Rank of Odd-Fellows and other uniformed organizations can't do better-probably not as well-even with houses that claim to cater for them alone.

One advantage there is in dealing at home-if the cap or chapeau doesn't fit "first pop" we are here to make it fit. If you order it from abroad and it doesn't fit, what are you going to do Respectfully.

Comfortable and Convenient STREET COATS.

For moderate weather or for gentlemen who walk a good deal, ride a bicycle or on horseback, a "Reefer" or double-breasted Sack Coat is a most useful garment.

These are made of very heavy goods, usually Beaver, lined with Woolen, and with Vest to match. We carry fine lines of these goods, from $4 for Coat to $25 for Coat and Vest. A few heavy Norfolk Jackets, in Plain, Plaid and Check Goods. These are exceedingly comfortable and convenient garments for house, store or office use, or for traveling.

All heavy goods had heavy reductions made on them January 1, and now is the time to buy.
